Johnson Urges Progress Without Strife

Keep Faith In Nation, He Asks In Address

By WALTER MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Lyndon B. Johnson, inaugurated to his first full term, declared today the time has come for the United States "to achieve progress without strife and change without hatred."

"Let us reject any among us who seek to reopen old wounds and rekindle old hatreds," the President said in his inaugural address.

Johnson added: "I will lead as best I can. But look within your own hearts—to the old promises and the old dream. They lead you best of all."

Johnson called on the nation to "join reason to faith and action to experience, to transform our new unity of interest into a new unity of purpose."

"For the time has come to achieve progress without strife and change without hatred," the President said, "not without difference of opinion, but without the deep and abiding divisions which scar the union for generations."

Johnson said his Great Society is not to be "the ordered, changeless, and sterile battalion of the ants."

"It is the excitement of becoming—always becoming, trying, probing, falling, resting, and trying again—but always gaining," he said.

If the nation succeeds, it will be "not because of what we have, but what we are; not because of what we own, but what we believe."

"We believe every man must someday be free," he said. "And we believe in ourselves."

"That is the mistake our enemies have always made," Johnson said. "In my lifetime—in depression and war—they have awaited our defeat. Each time, from the secret places of the American heart, came forth the faith they could not see or even imagine. It brought us victory. It will again."

Johnson said the United States was conceived in justice, and he said that means that all its citizens must "share in the fruits of the land."

"In a land of wealth, families must not live in hopeless poverty," Johnson said. "In a land rich in harvest, children must not go hungry. In a land of healing miracles, neighbors must not suffer and die untended. In a land of learning, young people must be taught to read and write."

"For 30 years I have believed this injustice to our people—this waste of our resources—was the enemy."

"Before this generation of Americans is finished, this enemy will not only retreat—it will be conquered."

The President declared that when any citizen "denies his fellow, saying: His color is not mine or his beliefs are different, in that moment he betrays America, though his forebears created the nation."

Johnson said the American covenant "called on us to help show the way for the liberation of man. That is still our goal."

He said the modern world has brought new meaning to that mission. "If American lives must end, and American treasure be spilled, in countries we barely know, that is the price that change has demanded of conviction," he said.

The President declared that America's course in the world is clear:

"We aspire to nothing that belongs to others. We seek no dominion over our fellow man, but man's dominion over tyranny and misery."

He said every American must find a way to help advance the nation's purposes.

"Without this, we will become a nation of strangers," Johnson said.

Johnson said God has allowed the nation "to seek greatness with the sweat of our hands and the strength of our spirit."

"But we have no promise from God that our greatness will endure..." he said. "In each generation—with toil and tears—we have had to earn our heritage again."

Concluding his address, the President declared:

"For myself, I ask only, in the words of an ancient leader: 'Give me now wisdom and knowledge that I may go out and come in before this people. For who can judge this, Thy people, that is so great?'"

For Inauguration

President Given Massive Guard

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's inaugural is being safeguarded by the most massive security precautions ever devised for a chief executive.

During the oath-taking and the inaugural address, before tens of thousands of spectators fanned out below the Capitol steps, the President stands behind a three-sided, bulletproof screen of glass.

The protective cage has a sheet of 1½-inch glass directly in front of the podium, like the one at the White House reviewing stand, but in addition has flanking panes extending back diagonally on each side to deflect a bullet fired from any possible angle.

Helicopters, television scanners, armed Secret Service men on rooftops, a rebuilt and rear-moored presidential limousine, and some 5,000 policemen, National Guardsmen and regular troopers are among the further unprecedented precautions.

With President John F. Kennedy's assassination in mind, special attention has been given to building tops and windows along the parade route from the Capitol to the White House. Even manholes in Pennsylvania Avenue have been checked.

Orders have been issued that all windows overlooking the parade be kept closed. Even regular government workers must have special one-day passes to get into their own buildings.

The names of all other persons planning to enter private and public buildings along the line of march have been taken and turned over to the Secret Service.

Two helicopters manned by police and Secret Service agents have been detailed to watch from the skies.

Detectives have been imported from police forces as far away as Boston and Houston.

To avoid even accidental or panic gunfire, the 1,200 troops who form a guard of honor along the entire parade line of march are not carrying rifles.

Other troop units are undergoing special inspection to make sure their rifles are not loaded.

So thorough are the precautions, four Cochiti Indian dancers have been asked to remove the heads from their arrows.

The Washington police force has been augmented by 1,000 National Guardsmen, some of whom have been sworn in as special policemen. The entire police civilian reserve has been mobilized, four radio communications networks have been set up, and the fire department, Capitol police, National Park police, and deputy marshals have been pressed into inaugural duty.

As Johnson's Vice President

New Life Opens Up For Humphrey

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hubert H. Humphrey, the man who battled so hard for the presidential nomination four years ago, begins today his "new life and new experiences" as Lyndon B. Johnson's vice president.

For the bustling, staccato-talking Minnesotan, the new life may be a bit tight here and a bit loose there, like the new dinner jacket he hopes to wear at tonight's inaugural ball.

"I'm going to put on my new tuxedo, if they get it altered," he promised a throng of friends and well-wishers.

Humphrey has already tried on his new life for size—and he has been slightly altered to fit it.

He and his wife Muriel know things won't ever be quite the same for the Humphreys. Now and then they look back. With tongue partly in cheek Humphrey acknowledged, "I have all sorts of mixed thoughts."

You could see some of the change Tuesday night as he made the rounds of a big three-hour reception in his honor at a local hotel.

The old Humphrey, the "Happy Warrior" of the campaign only 10 weeks or so ago, would have plunged into the crowd, shaking hands, patting backs and talking, talking, talking.

Tuesday night the Secret Service slipped him along back corridors so that he made his grand entrance close to the speaker's platform in each of the three rooms of the reception.

The old Humphrey had a way of forgetting the clock when talking to people. He'd shake off campaign aides who tried to get him moving along to the next stop. "These people came to hear me," he'd say.

Tuesday night he had his eye on the clock.

He had a date to attend the inaugural concert with President Johnson, and he told the hundreds who packed the vast hotel ballroom that the concert begins "at 8:30 p.m. on the dot."

It would not be good to keep the President waiting, particularly the night before his first day on the job.

But the high-domed man began talking to the hundreds of people who had paid $5 a ticket to see him. It was the same old Humphrey—quipping one moment, sentimental the next; introducing his relatives and friends and politicians from back home; asking the crowd's prayers so that he would be worthy of their friendship and support; asking its prayers that he be a good vice president and a help to Johnson.

As much as anyone, Mrs. Humphrey felt the change. She looked at the scores of old friends around her and said with emotion "It's a sentimental night. It seems like goodbye, but it isn't. It's a new beginning."

At many churches special prayers were also said for Lady Churchill, who is 79. "She is very calm and very brave," said her cousin, Sylvia Henley.

The street outside the Churchill home is cleared Tuesday night at Lady Churchill's request when the crowd began to get out of hand.

Favorable Outcome Impossible, Doctor Says

Churchill's Night Peaceful, Restful

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill slept peacefully through the night and his restlessness is gone, his doctor announced today.

A medical bulletin issued just before noon said:

"There is little to record. The restlessness has gone and Sir Winston has slept peacefully through the night and morning. There will be another bulletin this evening."

It was the 12th bulletin issued since the 90-year-old statesman suffered a stroke last Friday.

"It is impossible, I think, to hope for a favorable outcome," said Dr. Harley Williams, director of the Chest and Heart Association, after the bulletin was issued.

"In a man of his terrific vitality what we are told in the bulletin is, in a way, what we might expect," Williams added.

A spokesman for the British Medical Association noted:

"The bulletin did not give any indication of any worsening of Sir Winston's condition."

The bulletin was issued 22 minutes after Lord Moran, Sir Winston's 82-year-old physician, arrived at the Churchill home for his usual noon call on his patient. The doctor left the house a few minutes later.

Throughout the night a shivering crowd kept watch at the end of Hyde Park Gate, the dead-end street where Churchill has lived since 1955.

The door of No. 28 opened only once, at 1:55 a.m. Churchill's 24-year-old grandson and namesake, Winston Spencer Churchill, stepped out and drove off in his sports car.

The watchers assumed that Churchill had spent a quiet night. Tuesday his physician,

Lord Moran, was called at 2 a.m. after Churchill suffered a setback.

The medical bulletin Tuesday night, issued at 9:21 p.m., said:

"Sir Winston has slept through the day and there is no appreciable change in his condition."

Medical experts interpreted the continued sleep as a sign of extreme weakness but an indication that Churchill was not in pain. Some earlier bulletins had spoken of extreme restlessness, variable pulse and circulatory weakness.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, spoke of the approach of death Tuesday in addressing the Convocation of Canterbury, the "parliament" of the Church of England.

Later, at the request of the London Evening News, he suggested a form of private prayer for use by Anglicans at Churchill's time of crisis. It included these passages:

"Churchill is the gift of God's providence. I thank God for this gift and all His good gifts in time of need."

"Churchill stands for peace and humanity. I pray to God for peace, for unity, for all who are in distress."

"Churchill is at the hour of death."

"I pray that I may be ready to die. Lord take me to Thyself as when Thou wilt only without shame and sin."

At many churches special prayers were also said for Lady Churchill, who is 79. "She is very calm and very brave," said her cousin, Sylvia Henley.

The street outside the Churchill home is cleared Tuesday night at Lady Churchill's request when the crowd began to get out of hand.

Temperatures Ease

Snow Closes 2 School Systems

Temperatures climbed Tuesday night after the zero cold wave but the moderation opened the catch on the snow bin, requiring suspension of classes in two rural school systems and calling road crews back to battle.

Another snowstorm moved into the Tri-State District early today, dumping from 2 to 3 inches on the remnants of the weekend accumulation.

THE MERCURY mounted at the same time, rising to 29 degrees downtown at 6 a. m. in contrast to the near-zero 4 above registered at the same time yesterday.

The outlook is for colder temperatures this afternoon and tonight, reducing any additional snow to flurries. But the snow continued intermittently during the forenoon, indicating further accumulation before it tapers off.

Snow-clogged roads in the southwestern and northeastern sections of Columbiana County forced closing of Southern Local and Fairfield-Waterford School Districts.

JACK BAKER of Salineville, executive head of Southern Local, said bus drivers early this morning reported the wet snow was drifting heavily in a number of places, and he decided to suspend classes because of the threat to bus travel.

Joseph Driscoll, executive head of the Fairfield-Waterford District, checked roads early today, finding roads near Crestview High School and elsewhere almost blocked in some places by drifts.

East Liverpool schools had been forced to suspend Monday because of travel conditions but they resumed yesterday and were in session today.

The heaviest accumulation of the new storm was the 3 inches reported by Charles Boughner, lockmaster at the Montgomery Dam. He said another inch might accumulate.

AT LEETONIA, Chester Whitehouse, county supervisor for the State Highway Department, said over 2 inches had accumulated at mid-morning and it was still "snowing hard."

He reported some drifting early today because of brisk winds but they were diminishing.

He sent out 14 road crews to cinder and plowing after the storm struck about 3:30 a. m. It reached the Ohio Valley about an hour later.

The storm had the appearance of a blizzard at times in the downtown as dense snow squalls developed.

Chester Sets Sale Of Items

An effort to sell sewer cleaning equipment of the city of Chester was authorized by Council at a brief meeting Tuesday night.

Councilman Percy Willison, chairman of the street committee, was given permission to negotiate the sale of the equipment at the 12-minute session.

Willison said he knows of a possible buyer for the equipment, obtained about seven years ago and which is rarely used.

The ordinance committee, headed by Councilman Richard Johnston, is scheduled to meet with Solicitor James Jordan to complete plans for a regulation to curb heavy truck parking on residential streets.

The problem of such parking was discussed at an earlier meeting. The new legislation is to be presented at the next meeting Feb. 2.

Clerk - Treasurer Roy Cash-dollar reported receipts of $276 and bills totaling $2,672, with a balance of some $5,000 in city funds. He said real estate tax revenue and utility tax revenue is slated for the city this month.

Glenmoor Legion Enrolls Member

Jack Chapman was enrolled as a member of Glenmoor American Legion Post 735 at a meeting Tuesday night at the post home.

Fifteen attended the session at which Fred Morgan was appointed to the finance committee.

Morgan reported on the post bowling team which is tied for first place in the county Legion League.

It was announced the membership totals 121. William Wilson, second vice commander, reported on a recent meeting of the Veterans City Council. The next meeting will be held Feb. 2.

3 Salem Boys Given County Jail Detention

LISBON — Three 16-year-old Salem boys, who painted obscene lettering on several buildings and automobiles, were placed in detention at the County Jail until Thursday at 5 p. m. by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at hearings Monday.

Their driver licenses were suspended for three months and they must earn and pay $50 for restitution after their release. Terms include a 7 p. m. curfew for the first month and at 9 p. m. for the second month.

They will also be required to attend church each Sunday, pass all their subjects in school, not associate with each other and report weekly to Cornelius Csepke, chief probation officer, as long as he deems necessary.

5 Motorists Fined In State Patrol Cases

LISBON — Five motorists were fined Tuesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald in State Highway Patrol cases and another forfeited an appearance bond. Fined were:

Glenn Pitts, 18, of Hanoverton R.D. 1, $10 and costs; Robert D. Brinker, 19, of Leetonia, $10 and costs; Donald H. Posage, 48, of Lisbon R.D. 2, and John A. Tusek, 44, of West Point, each $5 and costs, all for speeding, and Albert J. Swartz, 47, of Steubenville, $5 and costs for failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

Ralph Andy, 20, of Canonsburg forfeited $15 for speeding. Pitts' driving license also was suspended for 30 days.

In Pursuit Of A Policy

The Johnson administration's second defense budget request is approximately $49 billion. It is less than the spending rate in the current fiscal year and less than the budget request of a year ago.

Many will say that Secretary McNamara is leading the administration astray with computerized Defense Department administration.

Critics of defense planning will charge that the military capacity of the United States is being whittled to the disappearing point by a cabal of wrong-headed planners.

Militarists will point to frustrations in their designs for a defense buildup and reveal in varying degrees their disappointments and disenchantments. Generals and admirals who are retiring will write books about this. They will make speeches about it. They will say bitter things in congressional hearings.

Representatives and senators will voice conflicting opinions. More than is true of most government departments, the Defense Department is a visible target for all hip-shooting critics. Everybody knows exactly how it should be run, though no two of them can agree.

The secretary of defense must listen to all of them and make decisions. If he has the courage of his convictions, some of his decisions will be hateful. They will shatter elaborate dreams and cut across the grain of strong convictions.

There is only one way to judge the job he is doing—the same way reasonable Americans judge the job a referee is doing.

They concede the referee is "closer to the play" than they are and knows more about it. They concede he is honest. They concede that only one side can be right in a dispute.

Secretary McNamara and the Johnson administration are pursuing a policy. They are trying to hold defense spending under $50 billion, because they believe this will keep potential enemies from being tempted to attack but not enough to put a serious dent in a constantly expanding economy.

They hope to peg defense spending at a point close to $50 billion by continuous housecleaning, getting rid of obsolete weapons and organizations and keeping abreast of new weapons and ways of organizing things more efficiently.

If the United States cannot buy defense for $50 billion, there would be no use trying.

Pleasant Reading

A Chamber of Commerce survey covering 13 business and industrial indices for 1964 makes pleasant reading in most cases.

Gains were shown over the previous year's levels in 9 of the 13 classifications, including employment and payrolls at area plants.

Though containing cautionary notes on rising production costs, virtually all national forecasts point to continued prosperity during 1965. East Liverpool and area communities are expected to share in such prosperity barring an unforeseen turn of events.

But, as always, healthy business and industrial periods don't just drop in one's lap. To be sure, general nationwide prosperity has quite a bit to do with the ultimate picture. But just as certain is the fact that business and industrial leaders must do their part on local levels by judicious handling of the various enterprises entrusted to their care.

If these leaders carry over into 1965 the energetic and vigorous practices they initiated and championed in most instances during 1964, there's no reason why the Chamber's figures in January of 1966 can't prove as pleasing — or more pleasing — than those just released.

Red China Will Fight

The United States has no diplomatic contact with Red China.

It must learn about Peiping policy in 1965 in the same roundabout way it used in 1950 when massive Chinese intervention in Korea took the United Nations forces by surprise and turned back the late Gen. MacArthur's Manchurian border probe, with disastrous results.

In 1965 as in 1950 there is no secret that every move the United States makes in Asia with its military power produces immediate reaction in Peiping.

The capital of Red China is making it as clear now as it was making it in 1950 that it will defend its interests without hesitation.

At the close of last week, Peiping was warning Washington that a rumored transfer of South Korean troops to South Viet Nam would be regarded as a threat to Red Chinese security.

The similarity of the problem in South Viet Nam to the problem in South Korea cannot be stressed too often. In both cases, the central nation involved is the Chinese People's Republic.

Though Russian Communists were involved at the outset in Korea and Chinese Communists are involved in Viet Nam, the ultimate showdown is not over ideological communism but Asiatic nationalism.

Red China is doing everything in its diplomatically circumscribed power to tell the United States it is going to have to fight more than North Viet Nam if it expands and extends its military power in Asia.

That is precisely what Red China told the United States in 1950; that if U.S. troops expanded the war into North Korea they would fight Chinese troops, not North Korean troops.

When it happened, everybody professed to be surprised, but Red China had made no secret of its intentions.

Timely Investment

The most frequently heard — and often justified — complaint against parking meters is that too many of them don't always work properly.

There's nothing more disgusting and more infuriating than for a motorist to receive a ticket because of the mechanical failure of a meter.

City Council has acted to correct the problem here to a considerable degree by authorizing the purchase of 450 new meters. The approved legislation will mean replacement of a great majority of the worn-out devices in the downtown business area.

When the new meters finally are put in place, and with the proper mechanical care required from time to time, many of the present headaches being experienced by motorists should disappear.

Naturally, you'll still have to feed the meters or face a ticket, but at least you should get a full measure of time for each coin deposited.

Taking It From The Top

When a Soviet airliner sought permission to land at Kennedy International Airport last Friday because it was low on fuel after encountering strong headwinds on its flight from Moscow to Havana, permission was given.

The Soviet craft was provided with 10,000 gallons of fuel, food for its 61 passengers and a trio of U.S. Air Force pilots to assist its pilots with their navigational problems before they continued the flight to Cuba.

When it was all over, everybody apparently felt happy about the whole thing. No one regretted that the plane had been given permission to land or that it had been allowed to continue to Cuba after refueling, instead of being sent back to Moscow.

But suppose it had been handled the way an airliner forced to land in the Soviet Union without prearrangement presumably would be handled. Let's take it from the top and play it over, Russian style.

The plane, crew and passengers would have been seized, after being forced down by a military escort.

There would have been a frantic exchange of diplomatic crossfire.

After a fortnight of obdurate obstructionism, we grudgingly would have released all but the co-pilot, who would have been charged with espionage. In return we would have forced a concession out of Soviet Union for protecting its nationals and their property.

Eventually, the co-pilot would have been released, too, under circumstances suggestive of complicity in a brain-washing shenanigan. His release would have been bought outright in a secret deal handled through the embassy of a satellite government.

Sometimes it's simpler to assume that the other fellow is a good Joe who honestly runs out of gas and needs a helping hand—and won't steal the gas can if you do him a favor.

By the way, who paid for the gas?

Helping Hand

Add the name of Jack Bennett, a New Cumberland truck driver, to the list of those not found wanting in time of need.

Through his courageous efforts, Jack was largely responsible for preventing an auto from plunging over an embankment, with possible serious injury or death for its four occupants.

It's comforting to know that there are people around with the courage of a Jack Bennett who are ready to go beyond the call of duty to lend a helping hand to their fellow men.

Odd Facts

Wyoming was the first state in U.S. history to insure woman's place in politics. In 1869, it gave women the vote, and Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, who held office in 1925-27, was the first U.S. woman governor.

The largest and heaviest carillon in the world is in the Riverside Church in New York City. It has 74 bells and weighs 100 tons.

The real name of Lewis Carroll, author of the immortal "Alice in Wonderland," was the Rev. Charles Lutwidge Dodgson (1832-98).

The geographic center of the United States, including Alaska and Hawaii, is in Butte County, South Dakota, west of Castle Rock.

The Neighborhoods Get Tougher

Johnson Plays A Hunch On Russians

By David Wise

"I hope the new Soviet leaders can visit America so they can learn about this country first hand."

Behind that seemingly casual, but nonetheless dramatic line in President Johnson's State of the Union message lies Johnson's conviction that he can get along with the Russians.

The same hunch was shared by President Eisenhower, who saw his hopes tragically shattered by the U2 episode and the ensuing collapse of the 1960 summit meeting.

It was shared by President Kennedy, who saw it shatter on the icy slopes of the Vienna, 1961 summit encounter, and again in the warmer climes of Cuba in October 1962.

Is President Johnson doomed to meet the same disappointments in his efforts at personal diplomacy with the Soviets? Very possibly.

World conditions have changed drastically since the confrontations of 1960 and 1962 and on the face of it Johnson has much more going for him vis-a-vis the Russians than did his two immediate predecessors.

THE CUBAN missile crisis itself proved U.S. power and determination and forced the Russians to back away. The open break between Moscow and Peking, the fall of Khrushchev—all of these factors have significantly changed the world with which President Johnson must deal. All have tended to weaken Soviet prestige.

Combined with this, the signing of the nuclear test ban treaty has helped to create a more relaxed atmosphere between Washington and Moscow.

All of these elements are seemingly in Johnson's favor as he makes his first major moves in the field of diplomacy and summitry. But he would not be the first President to find out that it is a perilous journey.

Johnson's statement that he would like the Soviet leaders to visit America "so they can learn about this country first hand" almost precisely parallels President Eisenhower's privately expressed sentiments in mid-1959, when he told visitors that he was sure all would be well if only he could get Khrushchev up in a helicopter and show him all the small homes ringing Washington. And so Khrushchev visited this country in September, 1959.

Less than a year later, following the U2 affair, Khrushchev was insulting Eisenhower in Paris and declaring that if the President were a Russian, he might be given a job as "director of a children's home."

SEEING AMERICA first hand had not improved Khrushchev's temper, as he proved again when he pounded his shoe on his desk at the United Nations in October, 1960.

Despite this, Johnson's own confidence that he can deal with the Russians began to build soon after he took office on Nov. 22, 1963. The Soviets conveyed word privately to the new President that they respected him and felt they could get along with him. Obviously, that message originated with Khrushchev, who was premier at the time, and had rushed back to Moscow from the country when he learned of Kennedy's assassination.

Like a lot of top U.S. policy-makers, Johnson may have felt a twinge of regret when Khrushchev was toppled last October. The President later told associates he had gotten used to Khrushchev pounding that shoe. At least the ebullient Russian was a known quantity, more or less, and his successors were relatively unknown.

The President's State of the Union invitation to the new Soviet leaders, and his proposal of a joint television exchange as well, came as a surprise, because most of the President's advisers warned him that it was too early to tell who would ultimately emerge on top in the scramble for power following the Khrushchev ouster.

THERE'S STILL a strong feeling among U.S. intelligence analysts, for example, that it may not be Leonid I. Brezhnev, the party boss, or Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, but rather the third or fourth ranking Soviet leaders who end up in power.

Johnson brushed aside that advice, although it came from some of his top foreign policy brains.

Probably, his decision stems in part from the conviction that the American electorate, in choosing him over Sen. Barry Goldwater, also chose the path of negotiation and discussion, rather than that of "total victory" over Moscow.

And, as Johnson is fond of pointing out to his aides, he won his election, and Khrushchev lost his.

Churchill's Greatness

By David Lawrence

Written And Spoken Words Will Live On

Winston Churchill, half-American and half-British, has left an imprint on world history scarcely paralleled by anyone else in modern times.

His deeds and accomplishments will fill the pages of history but it's in his written and spoken words that his personality will live on.

Sir Winston David Lawrence was a master of oratory as well as of the written word. He had no need for ghost writers. Unlike Woodrow Wilson, who was an extemporaneous speaker of remarkable skill, Sir Winston prepared his speeches in advance, but often added telling phrases as he spoke.

Even in his youth, Churchill seemed to have a premonition of the fateful career ahead of him. On his 25th birthday, when he was a news correspondent covering the Boer War in South Africa, he wrote to a relative in the United States:

"There is so much to be done in the world and so little time to do it."

But in the 65 years that have followed, Winston Churchill did a great deal, though he made no claim that he was never in the wrong. In fact, in a speech in the House of Commons on May 21, 1952, he said:

"I am by no means sure I have been right. It is no part of my case that I am always right."

SIR WINSTON'S thoughts and words after World War II have been much concerned with the possibility of a third world war and its prevention.

Speaking in the House of Commons on Dec. 14, 1950, he said:

"The argument is now put forward that we must never use the atomic bomb until, or unless, it has been used against us first. In other words, you must never fire until you have been shot dead. That seems to me... a silly thing to say..."

Perhaps the most telling warning by Britain's wartime leader to the free world is found in "The Gathering Storm," his book covering the period of appeasement that led to World War II. He wrote:

"If you will not fight for the right when you can easily win without bloodshed; if you will not fight when your victory will be sure and not too costly; you may come to the moment when you will have to fight with all the odds against you and only a precarious chance of survival."

"There may even be a worse case. You may have to fight when there is no hope of victory, because it is better to perish than live as slaves."

ON INTERNAL POLITICS, Sir Winston has always been a skeptic about socialism, which was often the subject of his speeches in and out of the House of Commons. In a broadcast on June 4, 1945, he declared:

"Socialism is inseparably interwoven with totalitarianism and the object worship of the state. Look how even today they (the socialists) hunger for controls of every kind as if these were delectable foods instead of wartime inflictions. . . . This state is to be the arch-employer, the arch-planner, the arch-administrator and ruler, and the arch-caucus-boss."

In the House of Commons, on Aug. 11, 1947, he said of the Socialists: "They have neither the efficiency of collectivism nor the enterprise and energy of individual initiative." In a speech in May 1948, he characterized socialism as "the philosophy of failure, the creed of ignorance and the gospel of envy."

IN A BROADCAST on March 27, 1943, the prime minister remarked:

"We must beware of trying to build a society in which nobody counts for anything except the politician or an official, a society where enterprise gains no reward and thrift no privileges."

Then, on Jan. 20, 1950, in another speech is this warning:

"The British nation now has to make one of the most momentous choices in its history. That choice is between two ways of life; between individual liberty and state domination; between concentration of ownership in the hands of the state and the extension of a property-owning democracy; between a policy of increasing restraint and a policy of liberating energy and ingenuity; between a policy of leveling down and a policy of finding opportunity for all to rise upwards from a basic standard."

PERHAPS the best exposition of the ills of socialism was set forth in Sir Winston's speech in the House of Commons in Oct. 1947:

"I do not believe in the capacity of the state to plan and enforce an active high-grade economic productivity upon its members or subjects. No matter how numerous are the committees they set up, or the ever-growing hordes of officials they employ, or the severity of the punishments they inflict or threaten, they cannot approach the high level of internal economic production which, under free enterprise, personal initiative, competitive selection, the profit motive corrected by failure, and the infinite processes of good house-keeping and personal ingenuity, constitutes the life of a free society."

On his 75th birthday, Sir Winston was asked if he had any fear of death. He replied:

"I am ready to meet my maker. Whether my maker is prepared for the great ordeal of meeting me is another matter." Sir Winston has been truly one of the most remarkable men in world history.

People In News

NEW YORK (AP) — Another Kennedy in the U.S. Senate?

Well, not right away, but Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., has a candidate in son Matthew, who is all of nine days old.

"Teddy was the ninth child in our family and he became a U.S. senator," said Kennedy as he and his wife, Ethel, left Roosevelt Hospital Tuesday with Matthew, their ninth child.

Teddy is Sen. Edward F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A new Tarzan soon will be swinging through the prop man's jungle. He is Mike Henry, 6-foot-3, 227-pound linebacker for the Los Angeles Rams.

Producer Sy Weintraub announced Tuesday the selection of Henry for the next screen Tarzan, the 14th since the popular series of films began in 1918.

Said Henry, former Southern California star and a seven-year veteran of the National Football League: "I don't think the other players in the league will kid me about playing Tarzan; they're too busy playing football."

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP) — Former Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges and his wife will watch the inauguration of President Johnson today on television at their Chapel Hill home.

Hodges, who retired from the government Monday, flew home from Washington Tuesday.

The former North Carolina governor said he and Mrs. Hodges packed Tuesday morning "and our things will get here Thursday."

DUNDEE, Ill. (AP) — Treasury agents said Albert Mears, 23, arrested at a still on his farm near Dundee told them he didn't sell his product, and explained: "I drink most of it. The rest I put in my car. It makes the car run good."

The Andes

The towering Andes are a great weather barrier and a colossal roadblock. Yet this mountain chain serves as the home of one-fourth the people of South America.

The tremendous mountain system stretches more than 4,500 miles from the warm shores of the Caribbean to the chilled southern tip of the continent, the National Geographic Society says.

Earthquakes breed among these young mountains. Near the Bolivian-Peruvian border, scientists recently found a "hot spot" where electrical conductivity is higher than normal. Geophysicists associate the phenomenon with the forces creating earthquakes and volcanoes.

Active volcanoes steam from Colombia to Chile and Ecuador has an avenue of some 20 live and dormant volcanoes. Some extinct cones in the Andes shelter ruins of prehistoric Indian temples.

The cordilleras, or ranges, that comprise the Andes reach heights of 18,000 to nearly 23,000 feet, and in Bolivia stretch 400 miles wide. They profoundly influence the weather. Depending upon the direction of the prevailing winds, the opposite slopes are dry. Only in rare sections does adequate rain fall on both sides.

Mayor Urges Street Project

for a snow plow attachment for a truck, a new truck for the street department and the purchase of a salt and cinder spreader.

On water, the mayor said assurance has been received that in time of an emergency, water can be drained from the proposed Highlandtown Lake. He asked the water committee to visit the Newell water works to obtain ideas. He commented that each time a major break occurs in a water main, service to the entire city has to be shut off. This points to the need for a survey and installation of a valve system so parts can be isolated, not the entire community, he declared.

He asked for the continued co-operation of Council in the collection of delinquent water bills and said a new truck is needed for the water department.

"A new packer truck was purchased the past year and we plan to continue operating the department efficiently and accumulate capital for replacement of equipment," he continued, adding that if possible he would like to see the packer trucks replaced on a three-year basis.

AFTER THE regular business was over, Wayne Rose, Council clerk, commented that according to the annual report of city finances, the packer truck was not paid for.

"The mayor inferred in a newspaper article the department is operating in the black and a new truck has been purchased. How can the department be operating in the black if the truck is not paid for?" Rose asked. He said the only reason the city could get the truck was by using money left from the administration of William Shoub, which was used for a down payment.

The mayor had left by this time and no further remarks were made.

The mayor said in his report that he plans an "educational program" this year on the type of trash and garbage cans and the weight to be handled by the employees of the department. "It is a small thing for the individual, but a big thing when the entire city is taken into consideration," the mayor commented.

IN OTHER comments, again made after the mayor had left the Council Chamber, Councilman Walter Henthorne said members of refuse department asked to meet with the refuse committee as they are dissatisfied with the present program.

Daugherty pointed out that this administration and Council could be the ones who will start negotiations for the relocation of Route 7 through the city. He said Council should first ask that present Route 7 be resurfaced the entire length as it will become just another street once the new highway is built.

He said it is possible the city might lose Roadside Park on Wells Ave. in the construction and urged Council to ask the Highway Department to develop a city-owned tract along the super-road as another park area.

He suggested Council set up an appropriation for a brochure on Central Park in an attempt to lure an industry to use the ground.

HE PREVIEWED the progress at Hammond Park the past summer and urged Council to offer all the assistance it can in repairing other facilities at the park. He pointed to the need for revamping the city's playgrounds, suggesting Council begin with the 17th St. lot.

He said the beautification project along lower Main St. will continue. He said any plans for a boat marina along Little Yellow Creek will have to be approved by the city before being sent on to the Army Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh. Councilman Nunzio Lombardozi had raised the question as to the progress of the marina at the last meeting.

A Salem man won the bid to lease city land for the marina. Springhill Cemetery has a number of needs, the mayor said, including road repairs, tree trimming, tree removal and extension of water lines. "A levy might be wise to do the work," he said.

HE URGED Council to consider the various uses of the former Standard Hardware Building at 12th St. He suggested it be used as a garage for city equipment. He said Council should determine how much is needed in repairs, borrow the money for a city fund and then pay it back with money saved in rental fees now paid to house some of the equipment. He said the rental fees total $110.50 per month.

Councilman Aguin Bowling said the roof of the building needs immediate repair. Henthorne suggested the building might be converted for the police and fire departments.

The mayor said many persons aided in the past year and deserve thanks. It is impossible to name them all, he said. He also commented he would like to work closely with Council in preparing the budget for the coming year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Urban Renewal Administration announced funds Tuesday for these projects:

Dayton, Ohio, $5,383,397 grant and a $9,574,520 loan for the Miami - Maple Urban Renewal Project.

$7,500 Set As Midland Fire Damage

Damage was estimated in excess of $7,500 in a fire which swept one side of a duplex in Midland late Tuesday night.

The fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cerelli, 135 Midland Ave., apparently resulted from an overheated coal furnace, according to Fire Chief Vince D'Itri. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cerelli escaped injury.

D'Itri said the furnace area was filled with flames when the department arrived, and the blaze spread quickly through the heat ducts to the attic. Seventeen members of the department responded to the call at 11:38 p. m. and remained at the scene about two and a half hours.

Damage was estimated at about $4,000 to the house, and $2,500 to the furniture. Some smoke damage occurred to the other side of the dwelling.

Chester Honors Kiwanis Service On Anniversary

"Kiwanis Anniversary Week" has been proclaimed in Chester by Mayor Harry Abrams in honor of Kiwanis International, which is currently observing its 50th anniversary across the nation.

Mayor Abrams was a guest at a meeting of the club Tuesday night at the City Hall at which he called upon the community to honor the club, which he said has provided much in community services in the past and at present.

About 22 attended the meeting at which a recording was played of a speech Edward Moylan of Miami, Kiwanis International president, will present Thursday at Detroit when the anniversary will be observed.

Thomas Ridge, program chairman, outlined the history of the service group, which was organized in 1915 at Detroit.

Al Fineman screened slides of the club's community carol sing in December in front of the City Hall.

Ray Stevens, president, was in charge.

Club members will conduct a house-to-house canvass of the city Tuesday in the annual "Fathers March of Dimes," with Fineman in charge.

March 26 Set For Newell Chorus Event

March 26 was set for an appearance of the Crucible Male Chorus at a dinner meeting of the Newell Lions Club Monday night at the Shamrock Restaurant.

The club will sponsor the chorus appearance at the Wells Auditorium as a community service program. There will be no admission charge, according to Edwin Carson, chairman of the committee.

The annual visit of the district governor, Walter Jordan of Chester, was set for Feb. 15, and will highlight a "Ladies Night" program at Patti's Tea Room in Wellsville.

Roger Cline, program chairman, screened a film on the 48th running of the Indianapolis 500 Race.

Dwight Hond and Ted Turley of the New Cumberland Club were guests.

The Board of Directors will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. with Ed Fahnert of Grant St. president. The next meeting will be held Feb. 1, with the place to be announced.

2 Police Lodges In Wellsville Set Installation Rites

Jack Dudek of Cleveland, national president of the Fraternal Order of Police, will be the guest speaker at the annual installation banquet of Wellsville Lodge 11 and FOP Associates Lodge 51 Jan. 28.

The dinner will be at American Legion Post 70. Judge Louis Tobin was to have been guest speaker but will be unable to attend.

Columbiana County Prosecutor Warren Bettis will be toastmaster.

Plans for the event will be completed at a meeting of the lodges Thursday night at 7:30 in the lodge rooms of the FOPA at 333 Main St.

70 Attend Dinner For Church Men

Seventy attended a dinner meeting of the Columbiana County Men's Brotherhood of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) Monday night at the First church at Lisbon with invocation given by the Rev. Harold Deitch of Salem.

Installation was held for newly-elected officers — Elmer Carey of East Liverpool, president, succeeding Arden Crubaker of Salem; Jack Wheeler of East Liverpool, secretary, succeeding Clyde Linderman of Salem, and Pike Kyle of Salem, re-elected treasurer.

The Rev. E. C. Traylor, pastor of the First church of East Liverpool, was guest speaker.

Group singing was led by the Rev. James Moxley of the First church of Lisbon, accompanied by Mrs. Ben Wilson of Lisbon.

The dinner was prepared and served by the Loyal Workers Sunday School class of the host church.

Cleveland's School Head Appoints Negro

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland School Superintendent Paul W. Briggs has named James R. Tanner an administrative assistant, the first Negro ever appointed to the superintendent's office.

Tanner, 43, from Portsmouth, is a top official in the Community Action for Youth program here. He will be responsible for planning the school board's proposed supplemental education center, Briggs said Tuesday. The board recently received a $10,000 planning grant for this project.

Ashtabula's Renewal Project Due Review

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Federal officials will review the first draft of a proposed $4.3 million urban renewal program for Ashtabula's business district Feb. 24.

The proposal calls for rebuilding a 24-acre area in the central business district. The study for the renewal program was financed by a $98,000 federal grant, and $3,250,000 in federal funds have been reserved to help the city buy and clear the property.

3 Cleveland Clubs Closed In Tax Cases

CLEVELAND (AP) — Internal Revenue agents turned customers, dancing girls and bartenders out in the street Tuesday night when they padlocked three downtown night clubs for nonpayment of federal withholding taxes.

Closed in almost simultaneous raids were The Gay 90s, 1711 E. 12th St.; The Roxy Musical Bar, 1857 E. 9th St. and the 730 Lounge Bar, 730 Vincent St., which all feature dancing girls on stages. The bars all owe withholding taxes dating back to 1961, the agents said.

Chicken breasts that weigh about one pound each when simmered in water to cover, will need about thirty minutes cooking time.

Man Asked Flogging, But Gets Pen Term

CLEVELAND (AP) — Former insurance agent Michael E. Keith, who asked to be flogged rather than sent to prison, was sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary for 2-to-27 years Tuesday for fraud in connection with his business operations. While in Cuyahoga County Jail awaiting sentencing, Keith, 36, had written Common Pleas Judge Thomas J. Parrino and asked to be flogged, but not sent to prison. Judge Parrino, in sentencing Keith, also overruled his request for probation.

Oath

man of the joint congressional committee on the inauguration. The inauguration ceremony proper was but the first of three major events. The others:

—The grand parade down Pennsylvania Avenue, the "Thoroughfare of Presidents." By suggestion of Johnson, the parade was stripped of much of the military might displayed in the past — it was intended, instead to stress the nation's peaceful achievements, past, present and to come.

—The ball, spread over a huge armory and four big hotels. The President and the vice president, Hubert H. Humphrey, will look in tonight at all these balls, where some 27,000 dressed-up people will dance, if they have the temerity. The First Lady readied her dress of jonquil, double-woven satin, Mrs. Humphrey hers of shimmering lavender.

Security forces were bent on doing all possible to protect the President. Though the exuberant Johnson would much rather ride unguarded and free to mingle, the word was that he had agreed to go in the re-armored presidential limousine, equipped now with a bubbletop of 1½-inch glass.

Augmented details of riflemen took up stations on the rooftops; every manhole was scrutinized. The bullet-resistant glass shields were in place at the Capitol for the inaugural address, and at the White House parade-reviewing pavilion.

But 1,200 troops forming the honor guard along the line of march left their rifles in barracks. Officials were said to feel that this would be too many weapons for complete control — that somebody masquerading as a soldier might slip into the ranks. Even Indians in the parade were requested to remove arrowheads from their arrows.

The Bible chosen by Johnson was his mother's. Chief Justice Earl Warren was to administer the oath.

For Hubert H. Humphrey, the bouncy man who is daisy-fresh after an endless round of receptions, concerts, cocktail parties and other fetes, the vice-presidential oath-giver was House Speaker John W. McCormack.

The parade — stepping off time 1:30 p.m. — was greatly shortened in comparison to past years. The President, up near the front, planned to review it until the end at the White House, and the aim was to get it past him before sundown, at 5:16 p.m.

Though half of the 15,000 marchers are military men, spick and span service academy boys and crack adult warriors, there is a notable absence of such things as rockets, missiles, atomic cannon. And no war jets streaking overhead.

The parade roster included adorable girls galore, befeathered Indian horsemen and mountain men in buckskins, 34 floats plus a mobile art gallery from Virginia, 54 bands, Miss America and Miss Indian America.

Tuesday night was a breathless round of parties, concert-going and late-night dancing. Spotted in the swirling crowds were Democrats who helped Johnson to glory, Medal of Freedom winners, Medal of Honor winners, artists, renowned musicians and just plain citizens.

A number of Republican leaders got in on the festivities, too. A big reception for governors included such men as Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, George Romney of Michigan.

They were here to show that an inauguration is no mere partisan event — it's symbolic of a nation drawing together.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Crane —

Dear Heloise: In this household we never seem to have pencil and paper handy when we need to write down messages and reminders for each other.

The kids draw and color all over any paper they can find available. Others may have the same problem, so I would like to pass along this hint:

Write the message on the mirror over the wash basin in the bathroom with a bar of soap! When the message is received the person picks up the nearest washcloth and wipes the mirror clean. . . .

During college days, my roommate and I started this and it has been useful so many times since.

DEVOTED.

DEAR DEVOTED: For years my husband has taken my lipstick and drawn on the bathroom mirror. "Please don't forget to send my good suit to the cleaners." (When I write him messages like this I use my lipstick lightly but he seems to ruin the end of it every time. . . . Besides it takes toilet tissue and rubbing alcohol to get the lipstick off and doesn't seem to shine the mirror too well either!

Your bar of soap works wonders! Not only is the soap removed more easily, but it leaves no stain and cleans and polishes the mirror at the same time.

You are a blessing . . . welcome into our clan of housewives.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If your mattress rests on open springs, six to eight thicknesses of newspaper make the best insulator imaginable.

The newspaper keeps the cold from coming up from the floor. We find that even our electric blankets use less current to keep us warm if the draft is cut off from the floor. Cheers.

AMEY O'CONNELL, FROM HELOISE'S KITCHEN

DEAR LADIES: When string beans and vegetables on sale and cooking a big pot of them.

We have found homecooked string beans (We bought all of these pounds on sale!) that if we cook them with nothing but bacon grease (this saves buying dry salt pork or using up expensive bacon), and do NOT add salt while cooking, they are far better.

Just before the string beans were done, we poured salt in a measuring cup, added a bit of and poured the salty water into the green beans!

Gals, you should taste the difference!

The only thing we cooked with our beans was water, fresh ground pepper and a little bacon grease. They were lush.

We also tried this on carrots and it was fantastic.

Any time we added a teaspoon of salt while boiling a big pot of green beans or carrots we also added one-half teaspoon of sugar. I don't know what this does but it surely makes it float on cloud nine.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When my jar of peanut butter becomes dry, I pour in a little bit of peanut oil and mix it until the peanut butter becomes soft and creamy and just the right consistency. This works wonders.

D.B.

DEAR HELOISE: When storing washed bottled or jars with their covers on . . . a little paper inside the jars and bottles will absorb the moisture and prevent a musty smell from accumulating.

MRS. LOY EDWARDS.

True!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: A pound coffee can is a good size for a ball of twine or string holder. Punch hole in lid for the twine to come through. The can can be enameled to suit color scheme. These are also nice when knitting or crocheting.

IOOF At Newell Told Of Electricity Growth

Walter Jordan, manager of the Monongahela Power Co. at Chester, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Clark Odd Fellows Lodge 447 of Newell Monday night.

Jordan spoke on the great increase in the use of electricity over the past few years in homes and industry. His topics ranged from developments in general appliances to the all-electric home. A question-and-answer period followed.

William Johnson and Stewart Lowers were in charge of a buffet luncheon. Lowers was program chairman. Henry Smith is noble grand.

Lighting Development Film Shown For Rotary Program

New techniques in lighting and equipment were discussed and demonstrated by Corry M. Chrysler at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Chrysler, an engineer for the Lamp Division of the General Electric Corp. at Pittsburgh, narrated a color film showing how the various new lighting devices were used in displays at the World's Fair in New York.

He said "the lighting industry is using the World's Fair as a showcase for new developments," and that General Electric alone was using five different types.

He said that the biggest advancement in lighting introduced at a World's Fair was in 1939 when the fluorescent lamp was shown.

Chrysler demonstrated the latest advance in fluorescent lighting, which was a foot square, one-piece molded panel of glass, and has the illumination power of two of the standard tubes now in use.

In the standard incandescent bulb, Chrysler demonstrated a 500-watt type much smaller than the standard bulb of the same power, and has a 4,000-hour life expectancy. The bulb contains gas and uses a quartz tube to enclose the filament.

Also shown was a "cool beam" lamp, which has light equal to any bulb of its power, yet produces only one-third of the heat. The primary use of this bulb would be in food stores, where bright lighting is required yet, where the heat might harm the food.

The engineer demonstrated a new type color-producing bulb, which has a colored reflector in the lamp, rather than an enamel finish on the glass as in present bulbs. The new bulb also produces a much brighter color compared to the older type.

A question-and-answer period followed.

Chan Keys served as the program chairman. Bob McNea, East Liverpool's head football coach, was a guest. A moment of silent prayer was observed in honor of the late Leonard Webber, who died last week.

Dear Friends,

Because death usually occurs in a family only once each dozen years, it naturally creates an emotional crisis. A funeral director must be called — one in whom you have complete confidence. Well-meaning friends, neighbors, clergymen, doctors, should not presume to call a funeral director without consulting members of the family. To the next of kin belongs the sole right of selection of the funeral director.

Respectfully,

Probe Continues In LaCroft Entry

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan's office at Lisbon is continuing the investigation of a burglary discovered Monday at Marty's Pharmacy on Lisbon St., LaCroft, in which $110 was taken, along with a revolver, a radio and postage stamps.

Deputy Kent Garvey, who made the initial investigation, said the store was entered between 9 p. m. Sunday and 9 a. m. Monday. The pharmacy is operated by Martin Baugues of Maple Dr., Calcutta.

Entrance was gained via a rear window in which a pane of glass had been broken previously and the opening had been covered by cardboard.

The intruder, who reached through the opening and unlatched the window, took $60 from a metal cabinet, which was left with the key in the lock, and removed $50 from the cash register. Also taken were a .32 caliber revolver, a nine-transistor radio and a roll of 5-cent postage stamps.

built its sewage disposal plant and has been renting the half-acre for $150 a month. The city would gain through industrial expansion planned by Georgetown, he said.

Todd urged Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare to block off suitable streets for children to use for sledding. He also urged the locations be publicized. Baldasare said two were blocked off last year but motorists removed the barricades and the flare lights were stolen.

Todd also asked that something be done to slow traffic on Center St. He said he counted 10 cars that drove through a stop sign.

The street and light committee was asked to investigate a request for one-way traffic on 12th St. between Main and Center Sts.

A letter was received from the Civil Service Commission, requesting the clerk's salary be raised to $40 a month. The commission also submitted a proposed budget for 1965, which was presented to the finance committee, headed by Todd. It calls for $480 for the clerk's salary and $150 for legal advertising and test makeups, for a total of $630.

Several communications were received from the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. stating the city owes the railroad $1,609.93. The claim dates back to the construction of the sewage disposal plant and sewer relocation in 1958. Wayne Rose, clerk, said Solicitor William Bush was informed the railroad plans to sue to collect. The letters were referred to the claims committee for immediate consultation with the solicitor. Rose commented that Bush said the claim is a legal obligation on the part of the city.

A discussion was held on pinball fees. Henthorne claims Robert Logan owes the city money in fees as a distributor and exhibitor. MacLean said Logan had paid for a six-month exhibitor's license. Henthorne said perhaps the money can be collected on a taxpayer's suit.

J. S. Fisher of Rego Industries of Hoboken, N. J., thanked Council for its confidence in his firm, stating they will "not be disappointed." Rego received a franchise for installation of a community television cable service.

Snow

the continuing storm made streets treacherous with an accumulation of wet snow.

Parking was becoming difficult. The new snow built up along the curbs, along with the accumulation shoved off the sidewalks in front of business places.

Street department crews were called out at 5:30 this morning to begin spreading ashes and salt.

No district mishaps were reported Tuesday night or early today by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon and officers described traffic conditions as hazardous due to the new snow.

Boughner's thermometer told the story of the district's release from the deep freeze.

He recorded 24 degrees yesterday from 7 to 10 p. m., 32 from 1 a. m. to 4 a. m. today, then back to 30 and up again to 33.

THE FORECAST is for a steady temperature decline this afternoon to 12 to 16 tonight, accompanied by snow flurries. Thursday's high may not exceed 23 degrees.

Meanwhile, winds yesterday broke up the first accumulation of ice in the Ohio River this season. The skim ice, up to half an inch in thickness, had disappeared by noon.

Champ Pays Visit To Chuvalo Camp

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP) — It was a hilarious scene. Mack Sennett, the old comedy king, could never have improved upon it.

Here was George Chuvalo, in training for his Feb. 1 heavyweight bout with Floyd Patterson, looking nervously over the shoulder of his sparring partner in the middle of the ring.

On one side, shouting himself hoarse while being restrained from climbing through the ropes, was heavyweight champion Cassius Clay.

Directly across the ring, the photographers were having a field day and the television cameras were grinding merrily away.

"Let me in there, let me in that ring," Clay kept shouting. "He insulted me and I'm going to whup him. That's what the champ is goin' to do...whup that washerwoman."

It was all make believe, of course. Clay had come up to the Toronto heavyweight's headquarters to help the ballyhoo for fight that may produce a challenger for his world title at some future date.

But to the goggle-eyed gallery, comprised almost entirely of hotel guests, it looked like the real thing. Some, as if generated by the excitement, cheered Clay, urging him to get into the ring. Others, angered by Clay's antics, yelled derisively at the champ, telling him to shut his big mouth and go home.

Clay had arrived at Chuvalo's headquarters barely in time to observe the Canadian strong-boy's workout. He had driven up to this Catskill Mountain resort, about 100 miles from New York. In his own bus, painted bright red with white letters "World's Heavyweight Champion" printed on the sides.

His passengers were 30 newspapermen and photographers, whom he regaled on the trip with poetry, song and quips. Cassius had purchased the bus, of 1953 vintage, for $4,700 and had a $5,800 engine installed.

"When I retire as undefeated heavyweight champion of the world, in about five or six years, this bus will become very famous and I'll be able to get a million dollars for it," he said.

Everything went fine while Clay's chauffeur, Otis Shabazz, was doing the driving. Then, about a mile from the destination, Cassius decided to take the wheel. He promptly ran the bus into a snow-covered ditch. The bus came to a grinding stop and tilted to one side. Luckily, it did not topple over and no one was injured.

As the passengers were scrambling out through a back emergency exit, Clay calmly apologized.

"I saw somebody up ahead and I took my eyes off the road," he said. "I thought it was the washerwoman."

Cassius explained why he called Chuvalo the washerwoman.

"Did you ever see him swing?" he asked. "He throws his arms around just like a washerwoman."

Clay entered Chuvalo's headquarters with a mop and pail and promptly presented them to the Toronto heavyweight in the center of the ring.

Stage Set For Brighton Midland Rips Beaver, 77-32

The stage was set for Friday's showdown battle between Midland and New Brighton which remains undefeated in the Section 8 race.

Midland walked all over Beaver in a 77-32 rout Tuesday night on the Beaver court while New Brighton was at home posting a 72-61 victory over Monaca.

THE VICTORY was the fourth league win in a row for Coach Hank Kuzma's five, which will host New Brighton Friday.

Midland raced to a 13-0 lead before Beaver scored and at the end of the first period led, 22-5. The halftime score read 42-20 and the Leopards were on top 62-27 after three quarters.

SIM HILL, who was doubled team throughout the evening and roughed up from time to time, was held to 13 points his second lowest output of the season. He scored 11 in the first game of the campaign.

Hill, who is Midland's leading scorer, was finally ejected from the game in the closing minutes when he complained to an official over a foul call.

Guard Norm Vanlier, who found the range in the second half, paced the Leopards with 19 points while Ron Brown wasn't far behind netting 18 points. Brent Lake balanced out the attack with 12 markers.

MIDLAND shot 37 per cent for the night making 30 of 81 attempts while Beaver took 49 shots and made 12 for 24 per cent.

The Leopards showed a wide edge in rebounds with Hill grabbing 17 to lead the way off the boards while Brown snagged 11.

Bearcats Nipped In 3 Overtimes

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
Bernard (Peck) Hickman has joined the select group of college basketball coaches who have won 400 games. The coach of the University of Louisville became a member when his Cardinals edged Cincinnati 82-80 in three overtimes Tuesday night.

A one-handed shot from the corner by Joe Liedtke, 6-foot-7 sophomore from Erie, Pa., with five seconds left in the third extra period gave Hickman his historic milestone in his coaching career that started in 1945.

Now in his 21st season at Louisville, Hickman-coached teams have won 400 and lost 162, including an 11-4 mark so far this season.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 20, 1965 PAGE 13

In other games on a national program, held to a minimum by midyear exams, Duquesne ended DePaul's eight-game winning streak 73-69, Purdue downed Notre Dame 78-74, Cornell made it seven in a row by defeating Colgate 92-83 and Harvard handed Dartmouth its 25th straight Ivy League setback 91-79. None of the Top Ten teams in The Associated Press poll saw action.

A Louisville turnout of 9,816 saw the Cardinals blow an early 13-point lead and rally to beat Cincinnati, a defeat that virtually eliminated the Bearcats from the tough Missouri Valley Conference race.

The regulation game ended 69-69 and neither team scored in the first overtime. Ronald West's basket for Cincinnati created a 76-76 tie after the second OT. West again tied the score for the Bearcats at 80-80 with 18 seconds to go in the third OT and set the stage for Liedtke's game-winning shot.

Eddie Cramer with 24 points was high scorer for Louisville, now third in the MVC with a 4-2 mark behind Wichita and St. Louis. Ron Krick led Cincinnati with 19.

Little 5-foot-9 Willie Somerset flipped in 42 points at Pittsburgh to lead Duquesne over DePaul. He put the Dukes ahead for good at 56-55 on a jump shot from the corner with eight minutes left.

Westgate came from behind in the fourth quarter to make it two straight over its strongest rival of the season by nipping Steubenville Big Red, 66-63, Tuesday on the Steubenville floor.

The unbeaten Wildcats now have registered 10 straight victories.

After a 19-19 first quarter tie, Westgate moved in front 40-37 at halftime but trailed 51-50 at the end of three periods.

Three starters combined for 48 points to give Coach Pick Rolley's team a balanced attack.

Leading the way was Rex Campbell coming up with one of his top efforts of the season with 17 points while Mike McVay dropped in 16 and guard Earl Diddle registered 15 points.

Kansas, Indians, Chisox Trade In Three-Way Deal

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics announced today they have obtained outfielder Jim Landis and Mike Herschberger and a starting pitcher to be named later in a three-way deal with the Cleveland Indians and the Chicago White Sox.

Pat Friday, general manager of the A's, said the Athletics sent Rocky Colavito to Cleveland. The Indians delivered catcher John Romano, pitcher Tommy John and outfielder Tommy Agee to the White Sox.

The White Sox then sent Landis, Herschberger and the starting pitcher to the A's and catcher Camilo Carreon to the Indians.

In Cleveland, Indians General Manager Gabe Paul said he had been negotiating the deal since last fall.

"When you get a chance to get someone like Colavito, you don't miff it," Paul told a news conference. "We hated to give up someone with the stature of Romano."

Paul said Romano's recent complaints that he wanted to play more were not a determining factor in the deal.

The 31-year-old Colavito, a popular figure with the Cleveland fans before the Indians traded him to Detroit in 1960, was quoted by Paul as saying: "I'm delighted. I never wanted to leave Cleveland."

The Indians are hoping that the long-ball slugger not only will help bring back fans but also provide some additional home-run punch in its lineup.

Paul said he figured the acquisition of Colavito would help make the Tribe a pennant contender in the 1965 baseball season.

"We always dislike giving up young players like John and Agee but I wanted Colavito back," said Paul. "This is his baseball home."

Hernandez Takes Pledge Before Venezuelan Chief

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Fun-loving Carlos Hernandez, who brought Venezuela its first world boxing title, has made a noble pledge — but its not the one Eddie Perkins wants to hear.

Hernandez, 24-year-old Caracas battler and sometimes playboy who dethroned junior welterweight champion Perkins on a 15-round split decision Monday night, told Venezuelan President Raul Leoni Tuesday: "I promise I won't drink another drop of liquor as long as I am champion."

Hernandez' climb aboard the wagon, after being suspended and stripped of his national title two months ago for a drinking spree in the streets, pleased everyone except Perkins.

All the Chicago fighter wants is a return match but the new champion has turned him down. Carlos, instead, is talking about a lightweight title fight with champion Carlos Ortiz of New York.

Cardinals Honored At Houston Fete

HOUSTON (AP) — Ken Boyer and Tim McCarver of the St. Louis Cardinals and former manager Johnny Keane were among the guests of honor Tuesday night at Houston's fifth annual baseball dinner.

For a night, at least, Keane was not yet the manager of the New York Yankees, the World Series losers.

He was again the manager of the Cardinals and he watched as a movie projector brought back two of the magic moments of the October classic.

That's Right, Game Ends With Final Score Of 2-1

In line with the trend toward higher and higher point production, here are some of the scores from high school basketball games in West Virginia Tuesday night:

Huntington Marshall 113, Crum 52; Gassaway 99, Norman 52; Middlebourne 102, West Union 68; Pocahontas, Va. 2, Montcalm, W. Va. 1; and Williamstown 105, Elizabeth 87.

We can hear the readers now: "Someone made a mistake. Nobody plays 2-1 basketball games anymore, not even in grade school."

But it's true. Pocahontas, Va. downed Montcalm 2-1 in what may have been the dullest game of the year — or ever.

Pocahontas took only two shots during the game, making 50 per cent. Its only goal was made in the second quarter. Montcalm hit a free throw in the last period.

Altogether only eight shots were taken from the floor; two by Pocahontas and six by Montcalm.

76ers Await Arrival Of Chamberlain

By The Associated Press

Wilt Chamberlain was expected to come home to Philadelphia today and the weary 76ers were waiting at the airport with open arms.

Since acquiring Chamberlain from San Francisco during last week's National Basketball Association All-Star break, the short-handed 76ers have dropped three of four starts, the latest a 103-97 loss to the Detroit Pistons Tuesday night at Toledo, Ohio.

The 76ers, down to eight men as a result of the 3-for-1 trade and Chamberlain's belated arrival, fell behind in the third quarter, rallied to tie the score at 91 with 4:45 to go and collapsed in the closing minutes.

Chamberlain is expected to play against his former mates Thursday when Philadelphia entertains the Warriors.

Oscar Robertson poured 15 of his 40 points in the last 10 1/2 minutes, leading the Cincinnati Royals past St. Louis 103-99 in Tuesday's other game. The loss ended a three-game winning string for the Hawks, who dropped into second place in the Western Division race, one-half game behind idle Los Angeles.

Uncle Pete's, Midland Win In City Cage Loop

Uncle Pete's of Wellsville made it two straight in the City Basketball League with a narrow 88-86 victory over Chester VFW and Midland CIO ripped George Bright's 95-70 Tuesday night at Westgate.

Vince Giles turned in a 31-point performance to pace Uncle Pete's while Bud Ceneviva and Sid Winland scored 17 and 16 points respectively for the winners. Dave Bell fired in 27 points for the Chester five.

A 33-point effort by Woody Deitch paced the Midland CIO to an easy win. Ted Robinson poured in 27 points for Bright's.

Next week Uncle Pete's meets George Bright's at 7 p. m. while Scafide's and Midland CIO meet in the second game.

Teacher Pay, Road Bond Bills Offered

CHARLESTON (AP) — Bills to carry out Gov. Hulett Smith's recommendations for a teacher pay raise and control of road bond funds were introduced in both houses of the West Virginia Legislature today.

The administration bills, recommended by the new Democratic governor in his speech to the lawmakers Tuesday, call for: — A teacher salary package estimated to cost $30.5 million over the next three years. — Keeping proceeds of the newly authorized $200 - million road bond issue in position for close scrutiny by requiring that they be placed "in a separate and distinct account in the state road fund."

— "A concurrent audit" of the spending of the road bond proceeds, to be conducted by "an independent firm of certified public accountants with recognized ability and standing."

The estimated three-year cost of the teacher salary proposal breaks down into $10.05 million each of the next two fiscal years and almost $10.4 million the third year. The salary year, now 9½ months, would be extended to 10 months the third year.

The bill would raise legal minimum salaries of public school teachers, it also would double the present $6 experience increment—the monthly amount added to base pay for each year of teaching experience.

At the end of three years, base salaries of teachers with bachelor's degrees would be from $675 to $925 a year higher than they are now. Minimums for those with master's degrees would be $795 to $1,295 higher and the base pay of a teacher with a doctorate would be up $1,498. Pay of non-degree teachers also would go up.

The $6-increase in the experience increment would be granted at the rate of $2 each year.

Base annual salaries at the end of three years would be $4,000 for a bachelor's degree; $4,250 for a bachelor's plus 15 hours of graduate work; $4,500 for a master's; $4,750 for a master's plus 15 hours of additional graduate study; $5,000 for a master's plus 30 hours of additional credit, and $5,250 for a doctor's degree.

These were among 28 bills—20 in the House and eight in the Senate — introduced today.

A measure to abolish the West Virginia Water Development Commission, the first bill to receive floor consideration in the 1965 session, came before the Senate for amendment action today.

Reflaming Blankets Are Blamed In Death

WHEELING (AP) — Authorities said here Tuesday that a woman who died in a fire earlier in the day had been smoking in bed.

Mrs. Freda Wiedetz, 56, was found dead on a bedroom floor of her two-story frame home in Wheeling. Medical officials said she died of smoke inhalation.

Police said pillows and blankets were found in the bathtub of the house. They said Mrs. Wiedetz apparently thought she had put out a fire and went into another room to sleep.

The pillows and blankets apparently flared again, causing the victim's death, the authorities said.

Mrs. Wiedetz was married to Harry Wiedetz, who was shot near his home in 1948 in a gangland-type killing. The shooting still is unsolved.

Ohio College Students To Aid Kentucky Poor

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Wilmington College's volunteers in the War on Poverty plan to go into action this weekend. Their goal is the Kerby Knob School in Jackson County, Ky., and the plan is to take down a load of clothing and school supplies and also do some repair work.

"We hope that at least 50 students will sacrifice their weekend between semesters to help us deliver the supplies," says Tim Sword, a history major from Dalton, who thought of the idea for the Wilmington College Appalachia project last year. The project is being sponsored by the Quaker college's sophomore class.

The awards will be presented Feb. 5 in Columbus at the annual Ohio Newspaper Association banquet. Sabin vaccine reportedly has been given to more than 350 million people around the world since 1960.

Horse Runs Last But Betters Get Payoff Of 12-1

LONDON (AP) — Many bettors in England, where bookie shops are legal, collected Tuesday on a horse who finished third, was announced as fourth, but actually was last in a 14-horse field.

The mixup happened in the last race at Warwick. Upall Night, a 50-1 hazard, finished third, but jockey F. Morris failed to weigh in. This automatically disqualified Upall Night to last place, but it was announced that he had been placed fourth.

The error was quickly corrected, but not in time to prevent payment by many bookies to thousands of gleeful bettors who had picked Upall Night for fourth. Fourth-place payoffs are common in England when there are big fields. He paid 12 to 1 for fourth.

Probation Requested In Auto Use Charges

LISBON — A probation investigation was ordered Tuesday by Judge Joel H. Sharp for Vernon R. Eiters, 20, of Salem R.D. 3, who changed his plea to guilty to four counts of operating a motor vehicle without the owners' consent.

He was also charged in the same indictments with four counts of auto theft but these will be dismissed by Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis, with the consent of the court.

He was indicted by the January Grand Jury and pleaded not guilty at arraignment Monday. He remains confined to the County Jail in lieu of bond.

5 Buddhists In Viet Plan Hunger Strike

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Five top Buddhist leaders are planning to begin a hunger strike Thursday and will fast until Premier Tran Van Huong quits or they die. Buddhist sources reported today.

Among the five monks reported planning to participate are Thich Tinh Khiet, aging patriarch of Vietnamese Buddhism, and Thich Tam Chau and Thich Tri Quang, the two most powerful Buddhist leaders.

The Buddhists also were planning to close their headquarters compound in Saigon as another gesture of protest. Street demonstrations by monks appeared likely.

In Hue, 400 miles north of Saigon, trouble appeared likely.

Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, civil and military governor of the area, warned Monday that unauthorized demonstrations in Hue would be broken up by troops and tanks.

Tuesday night students held another of their daily antigovernment rallies, and no effort was made to interfere with them.

The air force commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, touched off the latest crisis when he rejected appointment to Huong's Cabinet as minister of youth and sports.

Ky was one of four generals named Monday to Cabinet posts. The generals at first apparently accepted the posts, but then it became clear they were to give up their military jobs.

Bill Jurgens, former manager of the Red Sox, and Billy Goodman and Harry Dorish, former Boston players, are scouts for the Houston Astros.

Massillon Eyes Rate

Cut Under Power Pact

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Edison Co. has offered City Council a new contract that would cut all rates for Massillon, with residential users getting reductions of more than 2 per cent.

The city administration has proposed that the utility's local facilities be acquired and operated by the city, and council had been negotiating with Ohio Edison for more than a year. The rate offered by Edison would match those of the Ohio Power Co. in Canton, which reportedly has the lowest rates in Ohio.

Bringing Up A Family

Spelling Problems Solved By Practice

As a child learns to spell it with some longer words. We may help him if he knows the sounds in words he spells. But he soon learns that many words are not spelled as they sound and that he just has to remember how to spell these words correctly.

He may learn to spell some of these words in a Dr. Garry Myers spelling book or in a list his teacher gives him. Even if he does pretty well at spelling a number of words in a list, he may not always spell these same words correctly when he is writing a letter, a story, composition or the answer to questions.

So if you read a note your child has left for you, or if, as a teacher, you read what he writes at school or for school, you may discover that he has spelled some words, usually short ones, wrong. For example, he may have written this, "Wunce I waz rit-ten a letter tu my cuzen and spelt sum words rong." He spelled words as they sounded or as he heard their sounds. He seemed to spell phonetically.

SOME OF the words he may most often spell wrong are short familiar words which he has often heard and said and even written many times. He may have spelled some of these words as he wrote while he was in the third or fourth grade. He may keep on spelling them, or some of them, about the same wrong way when he is in high school, even later.

So a problem we parents have is for our child in the early grades and continually thereafter to want to spell correctly; to cause him to have a good spelling conscience. We should help him make a list of the simple words which trouble him most, each spelled correctly, and to have him practice on their correct spelling. As he goes on further in school he will have some trouble with some longer words. We need to help him learn the spelling of these words, too.

But we may do most to help this child become a good speller by having him master early the correct spelling of short simple words which he inclines to spell phonetically. Among such words are: any, was, busy, were, said, wrong, his, head, girl, done.

WHEN your child of any age, while writing a letter or writing something for school, asks you to spell a word for him, you should gladly do so. He may not be so ready to ask you to spell a word if it is a short one he has often heard or said or written.

If you are kind and patient you may observe these short words which give him trouble as he lets you examine what he has written. If you begin this way kindly and calmly during his early grades, he may be glad to have you continue doing so later in his school life.

As your child reaches the fourth or fifth grade you will want him to look up in the dictionary any word he is not sure he can spell. But if, when he asks you how to spell a word, you snap back at him, "Look it up in the dictionary," he might not often choose to do so. He might think this too much trouble and prefer to guess at the spelling of the word.

IF, HOWEVER, you cultivate a nice relationship with this child, you may gradually lead him to the habit of using the dictionary. It may encourage him if you honestly say sometimes that you are not sure how to spell the word he asks you to spell and then go find it yourself, or with his help, in the dictionary.

In the foregoing directions you will succeed best when he is most receptive emotionally and you are most persuasive. My bulletins, "Home Helps for Poor Spellers" and "Home Fun with Phonics," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Air Force Academy Probes Alleged Cheating By Cadets

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, United States Military Academy Colo. (AP) — Air Force Academy officials said today a faculty committee is investigating reports of classroom cheating by some cadets at this newest of the nation's service academies.

A statement by the institution's information office said academy officials "have started a formal investigation on possible cheating activities by a group of cadets. The investigation is to determine whether or not examination materials from certain classes have been illegally obtained and used."

Maj. Gen. Robert H. Warren, academy superintendent, appointed the investigating committee but the names of its members were withheld. A spokesman said the committee's findings would be made public but that it would take "at least several days."

Academy officials turned aside all queries with a statement that "in order not to compromise the investigation, the academy will not release details until the investigation is complete."

A similar investigation at the

There are 2,700 cadets enrolled at the Air Force Academy.

The statement said, "The academy operates under a cadet honor code. The alleged violations being investigated were brought to light during the operations of this honor system."

The investigation is the first at the academy since its inaugural class of cadets enrolled at temporary headquarters in Denver in July 1955. The cadets occupied their permanent home in the Rocky Mountain foothills 10 miles northwest of Colorado Springs in 1958.

Skidding Car Rams Porch; Driver Cited

A 36-year-old Midland man was cited on two charges Tuesday afternoon after his auto skidded out of control, hopped a curb and hit the steps on a porch of a Pennsylvania Ave. home, police reported.

Percy Brown, 400 Midland Ave., was cited by Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins on charges of reckless operation and driving without an operator's permit after the mishap at 2:05 that damaged the steps at the home of Wanda Hile, 152 Pennsylvania Ave.

Brown told officers he was driving east about 25 miles an hour and rounding a curve when his auto started to slide. The mishap damaged the right front fender of the 1956 sedan, police said.

Brown posted bonds totalling $115 for a Municipal Court hearing Monday at 9 a. m.

A parked auto was damaged in another collision at 6:25 last night.

A backing 1960 car driven by

Floyd H. Hornie, 70, of Hyattstown, Md., hit the parked 1962 coupe of Ray O. Dieringer, 49, of 1836 Smithfield St., police said. There was damage to the right front fender of the Dieringer car. Hornie said he did not see the Dieringer car.

Chester Cornman, 2135 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., told police Tuesday afternoon the right front of his 1956 model two-door sedan was damaged by a private car while parked on private property near the Hall China Co. plant between 3 and 11:30 p. m. Monday.

Wheeling Area Voters Approve School Levy

WHEELING (AP) — A five-year levy to raise an additional $400,000 a year for schools was approved by Ohio County voters Tuesday.

The 100 per cent excess levy passed by a margin of about 63 per cent, according to unofficial returns. County schools had been operating under a three year 70 per cent excess levy.

Money raised will help finance teachers' salaries and pay for instructional materials and an expanded vocational program.

Trial Delayed By Car Crash

A scheduled Municipal Court trial for a Youngstown woman charged with shop-lifting and resisting arrest was postponed today after the defendant's counsel advised Judge Samuel M. Chertoff an auto bringing his client to East Liverpool overturned on Route 7 in the Rogers area.

The judge then ordered a continuance until Tuesday morning in the case of Nancy Mims, 23, who was cited by Patrolman Jack Strobel Jan. 5 after a struggle in the parking lot outside the Loblaw, Inc., Market on Dresden Ave. The court continued her two $250 appearance bonds.

Atty. Richard Kennedy of Lisbon advised the judge that his client phoned him about the time court was to convene and reported she would not be able to be present because of the auto upset. Kennedy said he confirmed the report with the attendant at a service station from which she phoned.

Officer Strobel cited the woman on charges of stealing six cartons of cigarettes worth $14.79. When he attempted to take her into custody in the parking lot, she kicked and scratched, he said. The struggle led to a charge of "resisting and abusing an officer." Two accomplices made their escape in an auto which bumped the officer, he said.

Sled Mishap Injures Boy

A district boy injured sled riding Tuesday and a Weirton man hurt in a fall in Midland early today were admitted to City Hospital where a child cut on a toy was treated last night.

Kenneth Gilchrist, 8, son of Clarence Gilchrist of M. C. 22, was in "fair" condition with a fractured right arm received when his sled ran against a cement block.

John Thomas, 62, of Weirton was in "good" condition. He was admitted at 3:05 a. m. after a fall at Midland Ave. on 8th St., Midland.

Christine Hickman, 3, daughter of Donald Hickman of R. D. 3, was treated for a laceration of the right ankle suffered on a toy.

DELTONA, Fla. (AP)—A bell cast in 1859 is coming out of retirement for the second time.

With the passing of the one-room schoolhouse era the bell fell silent for 30 years. Now it has been dusted off and installed in a Deltona building which will be used as an adult education center.

A total of 159 aliens residing in this district have obtained the required federal registration form at area Post Offices. The annual registration began Jan. 1 and closes Jan. 31, as required of all persons of foreign birth who are not citizens.

Postmaster Samuel Brown said 41 picked up the report forms at the East Liverpool Post Office.

Twenty-eight have received the applications at Wellsville while the Newell Post Office has issued five.

About 10 aliens obtained forms at the Chester Post Office, where some 30 generally are issued each year. Postmaster Robert Edwards said.

Midland Postmaster Angelo Cellini said 75 have obtained the forms today.

39 Take Free Ride

To Overcome Fears

BELGRADE (AP)—The Yugoslav National Airline took a planeload of selected air-scared passengers on a free ride to Dubrovnik and back to convince them that travel by plane was pleasant.

The free flight was open to persons who would admit they never had flown because they were scared. Five thousand applications were received and the airline selected 40 of those who sounded the most frightened. Only one of the 40 failed to show up for the trip.

Salineville Area Man Injured In Skid Crash

William Sprague, 38, of Salineville R. D. 1 was treated at the City Hospital for an injury to the neck and lower chest Tuesday afternoon after his auto was involved in a three-car chain-reaction collision on the Midland-East Liverpool Rd. just west of Midland.

Midland police said the auto driven by William E. McKenzie, also of Salineville R. D. 1, went into a skid when he tried to stop.

Sprague's car hit the rear of the McKenzie auto and in turn was hit in the rear by a car driven by Gary Zimmerman of Calcutta. The other drivers escaped injury. Total damage was estimated at about $700.

Coal Barge Sinks

A barge carrying about 900 tons of coal sank in the larger lock chamber of the Montgomery Island Dam this morning while being locked through in tow of the diesel boat L. Fiore out of Huntington. Charles Boughner, lockmaster, notified the Army Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh, which will remove it. Tows meanwhile are being locked through the smaller chamber.

2 Women Hurt In 3-Way Crash

Two women were injured in a three-way crash at 9:50 a. m. today at 9th and Main Sts., Wellsville.

Police said a car driven by Mrs. Delores Whiteman, 1024 Main St., had halted for the traffic light and Mrs. Pauline E. Griffith of Lisbon St., East Liverpool, stopped behind her.

A mail truck driven by Bradley E. Householder of Springfield R. D. 1 coasted into the rear of the Griffith vehicle, knocking it into the Whiteman car.

Mrs. Griffith had back and neck injuries and Mrs. Whiteman suffered chest injuries. Police said they were to check with their physicians.

Wellsville police also reported one person injured in an accident at Silver Switch at 11:15 a. m. today. The State Highway Patrol was notified.

Underground Explosion

U.S. May Charge Soviet With Violating Test Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States may charge the Soviet Union with violating the limited nuclear test-ban treaty as a result of an underground explosion last Friday in Central Asia.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said Tuesday night the blast has produced some fallout in the northern Pacific near Japan. Officials noted that under the treaty, fallout is supposed to be kept within the boundaries of the testing nation.

The evidence to date suggests that while the Soviet explosion technically violated the treaty, it apparently was accidental. And, the AEC said, "the amounts of radioactivity measured to date will not produce measurable exposures to persons."

Still, Secretary of State Dean Rusk has asked Moscow for a full explanation. Officials said they will wait a report from the Soviet Union before determining the application of the treaty.

The treaty, signed in Moscow

18 months ago and subscribed to by more than 100 nations, prohibits nuclear explosions in the atmosphere, in outer space and under water. It also prohibits underground explosions if they cause radioactive debris "to be present outside the territorial limits of the state" that is testing.

The force of the Soviet blast, set off in the Semipalatinsk area of central Russia, was described by the AEC as "in the intermediate range." This means it was equivalent to the force of 20,000 to 1 million tons of TNT.

Last March, officials said, an underground American test blew radioactive material into the air and the debris was traced over the southwestern part of the United States. However, they said, no radioactivity was detected outside U.S. borders.

Three days after the incident, the Soviet news agency Tass commented that if the fallout went beyond U.S. borders the treaty would be violated.

At 4:30 p.m., about an hour and a half before the AEC announcement, Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin was summoned to the State Department and asked to obtain the information referred to in the statement.

Fairfield Delays Bond Issue Vote

MIDDLETON — A proposed $375,000 school bond issue for the Fairfield-Waterford District, planned for the May primary election, has been postponed until November by the Board of Education.

Because the issue does not meet the emergency requirement for special issues in a primary election under the state law, the balloting was delayed until the general election in the fall.

The issue would provide for additions and improvements at the New Waterford and Fairfield buildings and Crestview High School.

60 Arrested In Alabama

Negroes Arrange Another Drive To Sign Up Voters

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Negroes aim another offensive today at the lengthy and complicated system of registering voters in Dallas County where Negroes comprise 60 per cent of the population and one per cent of the voters.

A registration attempt was planned for the third day in a row.

At Tuscaloosa, Negroes led by comedian Dick Gregory mount another tour of cafes today in their new test of segregated facilities. The Rev. T. Y. Rogers Jr., a Negro leader, said places which probably would be visited include three businesses where lunch counters were closed Tuesday on the first day of the new integration tests.

"We are not going through the back door any more," said the Rev. James Bevel, a leader in the Selma civil rights drive that hit its first serious snag Tuesday after initial success in the desegregation of downtown businesses.

Sixty-six persons, most of them prospective Negro voters, were jailed by Sheriff James G. Clark Jr. when they refused to use the alley entrance to the courthouse or to move from the sidewalk.

All were released late Tuesday and three civil rights workers were freed of suspicion charges. The others signed their own bonds of $300 each on charges of unlawful assembly or of criminal provocation.

They had walked to the courthouse under close watch by city policemen. When they reached the courthouse they were arrested by the county sheriff.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who launched the drive Monday, appealed to the Justice Department for legal steps to bar interference by the sheriff. He said that Justice Department attorney John Doar had pledged cooperation in a telephone conversation.

King left Tuesday night for Atlanta and speaking engagements elsewhere.

He promised to return Friday to continue the civil rights campaign, his first major one since last summer.

In other developments, a white man was sentenced to 60 days at hard labor for striking King last Monday.

$1.25 Per Hour Pay Slated For Youth Job Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department has decided to pay $1.25-an-hour minimum wage to youngsters working in Neighborhood Youth Corps projects under President Johnson's antipoverty program.

Organized labor had pushed for the $1.25 rate.

Thirty-seven projects have been approved in 23 states. The total cost will be $24,395,000. More than 41,000 youths between 16 and 21 are involved.

week. Cohen, named chairman by President Johnson last July, is 52.

Palestine Seeks Bids For Street Lighting Project

EAST PALESTINE—The city advertised today for bids for three phases of the proposed new street lighting system in the downtown area.

Bids will be opened Feb. 3 for the lighting projects, which includes 37 foundations for the light poles, 37 steel poles and 47 400-watt mercury vapor lamps, and installation and wiring of the fixtures of the new "White Way" project.

Specifications may be obtained from Safety-Service Director George McGuckin at the City Hall.

The municipal power plant in 1964 set an all-time high in kilowatt production — 24,700,000 — McGuckin announced today.

The output was 1,200,000 kilowatts more than in 1963, and 4 million more than 1962.

Receipts at the plant were $461,867, while expenditures totaled $442,115, he added. Coal and labor were the major expenditures.

Veterans On Pensions Given Reminder On Income Report

LISBON — Veterans Administration income questionnaire cards must be returned to the VA regional office by Jan. 31. Failure to do this will result in loss of pension, until this provision is complied with, according to Walter McCoy, VA investigator.

The new pension law, which became effective Jan. 1, replaces one of July 1, 1960. All persons on pensions under old law will automatically receive an increase in benefits with the check due them on Feb. 1.

Those who received pensions prior to July 1, 1960, and still receive benefits under the old pension law in the amounts of $78.75 for the veteran and $50.40 for the widow, will not receive any increase in benefits. They may elect to receive pensions under the new law, if they feel it will benefit them to do so.

The new insurance law becomes effective May 1. Many thousands of veterans will become eligible for National Service Life Insurance. To buy this insurance, a veteran must have been originally eligible for National Service Life Insurance between Oct. 8, 1940, through Jan. 1, 1957, and must meet certain other requirements. Maximum authorized coverage is $10,000.

All veterans receiving service-connected disability compensation checks from the VA have been notified by mail that they are eligible to obtain their NSLI. Proper forms will be sent them when they become available.

"Our concern is for the veteran who will not be notified by the Veterans Administration by mail," McCoy said. This is directed to the veteran who might fall into one of the following categories:

- (1) Veterans who are rated at zero per cent for a service-connected disability.
 - (2) Veterans with a non-service connected disability who are uninsurable with a commercial insurance co.
 - (3) Veterans who may wish to exchange their present term policies for one of the other permanent insurance plans.
- "If you are interested in applying for National Service Life Insurance under the new insurance law and feel that you fall into one of the above categories, send a card with your name, address and date of birth to the Soldiers' Relief Office, Court House, at Lisbon. We will see that you get the information and proper forms when they become available," McCoy said.

City Man's Kin Slated For Honors In Britain

The Order of British Empire has been awarded to Tom Kirk, chief engineer of the liner Queen Mary and a cousin of Douglas McCannachie of Columbia Ave.

McCannachie, who sailed with the Liverpool sea officer on a trip to England in 1958, is hoping to sail again with him on a planned trip this summer. Kirk is to receive the award from Queen Elizabeth in March.

Christmas Tree Head Re-Elected

LISBON — Eldon Beard of New Middletown was re-elected chairman of the Eastern Ohio Christmas Tree Growers' Association at a committee meeting Monday evening in the County Extension Service offices.

Other officers are Paul Schneider of North Canton, vice chairman; Don Myers of Lisbon, secretary; and Walter Burbick of Lisbon R. D. 4, treasurer.

The committee set a dinner meeting April 3 at Aldom's Restaurant at Alliance and the program will include discussions of public relations in sales and insect control by a representative of the State Department of Agriculture.

The summer meeting July 23 will feature a farm field tour. The annual meeting will be held Nov. 4 in Youngstown and an area producer of trees will be guest speaker.

Returns To Old Job

CLEVELAND (AP)—Charles Day, who was a newsman at radio station WGAR for 20 years before going to WEWS-TV in September, 1963, is returning to his former post of news director of WGAR effective Feb. 1. Day, a native of Middletown, replaces George Engle, who is resigning from the top WGAR news post.

Lawrenceville Legion Names 4 As Directors

Four members of the Board of Directors of the Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 were elected at a meeting Monday night at the post home.

Elected were Joseph Blankenship and Leroy Dunham of East Liverpool and Guy Michaels and Donald VanDyke of Lawrenceville.

Charles Huffman, commander, presided. Blankenship, adjutant, reported the post now has 120 members, over the quota of 115 set for 1965.

VanDyke and committee served refreshments. The next meeting will be held Feb. 1.

World Group Asks Catholics To Join In Unity Discussion

ENUGU, Nigeria (AP) — The World Council of Churches asked the Roman Catholic Church Tuesday night to join in formal discussions of church unity.

The council, representing 214 member churches of Protestant, Anglican, Orthodox and Catholic faiths, announced at its annual meeting it will set up a working committee for formal consultations with the Vatican.

The committee, "subject to parallel action by the appropriate authorities of the Roman Catholic Church," will have six Roman Catholic members and eight from the council.

The Vatican's two observers at the council meeting, the Rev. Jerome Hamer of Belgium and the Rev. Pierre Duprey of France, termed the council action "a step forward."

"In our opinion," they said in a statement, "the general trend of this report on the relations of the World Council with the Catholic Church is in harmony with the recent decree of the Vatican Council on ecumenism."

Dutch Bishop Jan Willebrands, head of the Vatican Secretariat for Promotion of Unity, was reported to have assisted in the planning for the consultative committee.

However, council officials cautioned against speculation that the theological differences between the council's members and the Roman Catholics could be bridged quickly. Some Orthodox and some evangelical churches appeared lukewarm toward the move for closer contact with Roman Catholicism.

The report approved by the World Council's 100-member

Central Committee said the proposed committee would be purely consultative and "would not be able to make any decisions."

The report also noted that the council itself "cannot act for the member churches unless it is specifically authorized to do so."

The report pointed out that the World Council is a "fellowship of many churches with different confessional backgrounds" while the Roman Catholic Church is a single church.

"The committee is a significant step," said one council official, "but it should not be played up too much, else our individual member churches will feel they are being overruled or bypassed when actually we will be trying to bring them together."

Sen. Maloney Named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Majority leader Theodore G. Ray, R-Miami, announced Tuesday that State Sen. Michael J. The 1963 total was $27,845, while the 1962 figure was $23,450.

The damage last year included $13,700 to buildings and $4,745 to the contents.

THE VALUE of the buildings endangered was $200,875 and the value of the property saved was $187,175. There was $176,700 insurance on the buildings endangered.

The value of the contents endangered was $89,400 while the value of the contents saved $84,655. The insurance on the contents totaled $78,900.

There were 25 fire calls with loss and 27 without loss, for a total of 52 emergency calls.

There was a total of 104 calls during the year. The monthly breakdown shows January 5; February, 8; March, 11; April, 10; May, 6; June, 5; July, 4; August, 10; September, 13; October, 8; November, 13, and December, 11.

Forty-six calls were between noon and 6 p. m., 30 from 6 p. m. to midnight, 5 from midnight to 6 a. m., and 23 from 6 a. m. to noon.

FIVE OF the calls were by police radio, 2 by alarm box, 6 by individuals and 91 by telephone.

The types of calls were: Dwellings, 42; vehicles, 22; grass and rubbish, 14; mercantile, 9; garages and outbuildings, 3; residences, 3, and miscellaneous, 11.

The causes of the fires were: Children, 11; heat producing appliances, 10; undetermined, 7; electrical appliances, electric wiring, cigarettes and smoking, 11; and chimneys, 6 each; autos, 11; flushing gasoline, 6; no air filters, 2; and wiring, 2; smoke and fumes, outside burning and "honest mistakes," 5 each; cleaning with gasoline, hot water heaters, arson, and oxygen, 3 each, and miscellaneous, 14.

THE CHIEF said there were 57 full alarms, whereby the siren is sounded for all the men to respond, 23 still alarms, where one or two men are sent out with the truck without sounding a general alarm and 24 investigations.

In a letter accompanying the report, the chief recommended the purchase of 200 feet of 2 1/2-inch hose, 100 feet of 1 1/2-inch hose, four helmets, three fire coats, three pairs of boots, 150 feet of half-inch and 150 feet of inch rope, two short - period, self-contained smoke masks and a 6-12-volt battery charger for automotive vehicles.

He pointed out the city's "first line" apparatus is the so-called new pump which is in its 15th year of service.

"I do not believe it is necessary to go into a long explanation as to the need and reasons for dependable and modern fire apparatus. The department can only do the best it can with what it has to work with. Do not let us slip back to conditions that have prevailed in the past."

OUR CITIZENS and our community "can't afford it," he commented.

The chief cited the need for a new station and headquarters, pointing out the present station was remodeled from a church to serve as the station in 1908.

He reiterated the need for ordinances governing the installation of heat-producing appliances and the operating of motor vehicles without air filters on the carburetors. This is a constant source of fires.

Shift Campaigns To Pennsylvania

PITTSBURGH (AP)—David J. McDonald and I. W. Abel shift their sights to western Pennsylvania today after campaigning hundreds of miles apart for the presidency of the million-member United Steelworkers Union.

McDonald, president of the union since 1952, speaks in suburban Pittsburgh, Abel, USW secretary-treasurer who is opposing McDonald's bid for another four year term, visits Johnstown, Pa.

McDonald, speaking to some 2,000 union men in Baltimore suburb of Dundalk Tuesday night, promised "the best contract in the history of this union."

Abel, speaking Tuesday night in Waukegan, Ill., accused McDonald of having a "half-hearted, happy-go-lucky" style in contract negotiations.

"You just don't convince management you're serious about solving local problems and achieving substantive gains when you appear to be more interested in social acceptance than in negotiations."

The USW has reopened its current contract with basic steel but negotiations have been recessed until after the union election, Feb. 9.

Benefit From Business Investment Due Ohio

James J. Nance told a luncheon meeting of the Ohio Dairy Producers Association Tuesday that the nation's basic industries and free enterprise system face their greatest challenge in creating more jobs. The Cleveland banker said he believes Ohio is meeting today's economic challenges.

City Officers Receive New Short 'Ike' Jacket

All 26 East Liverpool officers now are being outfitted with new "Eisenhower-style" jackets, thanks to funds raised in benefits of the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge.

Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice is shown modeling one of the new jackets, which have distinctive patches on each shoulder reading "East Liverpool Ohio Police."

The officers also will receive new caps. The style of the new jackets was selected by Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vordrey and Chief A. J. Radeschi with the help of the FOP. They pointed out the shorter, trimmer coats are particularly useful for cruiser drivers.

Officers at the wheel of a car will be less hampered by bulk than was the case in the old-style blouses, the chief said.

Ohio Man Charged With Manslaughter

CINCINNATI (AP) — Roy C. Byrd, 23, Cincinnati, has been charged with first degree manslaughter as the result of an autopsy on Frank Samples, 62, Hamilton, whose body was exhumed for the examination.

Police say Samples was struck while trying to break up a fight Dec. 27 at the Wolf's Den, a tavern he owned in Cincinnati. He died Jan. 8 and was buried before the coroner learned of the fight and ordered the autopsy that showed cause of death to be a head injury.

Byrd was charged Tuesday.

Specialists To Meet

CINCINNATI (AP) — Specialists in internal medicine from Ohio, West Virginia and western Pennsylvania are gathering here this weekend for a regional meeting of the American College of Physicians. A spokesman said scientific lectures Jan. 22 and 23 will deal with the treatment of penicillin-resistant "staph" infections, kidney transplants, diabetes and hormonal therapy.

Also dropped was a vote fraud case against Mrs. Frances Berk, South Euclid, which resulted from notations she made on the backs of ballots while working as a presiding precinct judge. The prosecutor said there was no proof that there was any criminal intent in the markings.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband thinks nothing of spending $200 on fishing equipment or $175 on a camera but he will slit a tube of toothpaste down the middle with a razor blade after he has squeezed it to death, to make sure he gets every last ounce of toothpaste out of it.

This man is a busy executive. When I see him spending time in the morning performing this penny ante trick it burns me up.

Last night he was sewing something. When I asked what he was doing he said, "This shoe lace is good for another few months."

What's the matter with him? He's extremely generous about everything else. Can you explain it?—MRS. SKINFLINT.

Dear Mrs. Flint: We all have our pet miser stunts. Your husband happens to be tight about toothpaste. The President of the United States goes around the White House turning out lights.

I'm overly thrifty when it comes to lipstick. If it's a shade I especially like I will use the stick down to the last 64th of an inch. Then I'll go after what's left with a hair-pin.

How about you? No pet miser stunts?

Dear Ann: Please don't throw this letter away if you think I sound like a screwball. I need your opinion.

I'm 29, have a good build and I'm not bad looking. The trouble is I'm getting bald. I've spent a fortune on creams, stimulants, pomades and every kind of treatment you can think of. Nothing seems to help.

Recently a friend told me of a new hormone cream that his brother-in-law is putting on the market. This cream is made of hormones from female monkeys so there is no danger that the user will become effeminate.

Tell me, Ann, do you think this cream will help?—WILLING WALLY.

Dear Wally: Yes, it will help—your friend's brother-in-law. If enough suckers buy it he will get very rich.

My advice: Go to your doctor and find out if you have a scalp disease or if your hair is falling out because of nerves.

If the doctor rules out both possibilities, accept your baldness philosophically unless you want to go in for the new transplanting process which is both time consuming and costly—but it does work.

Dear Ann: My husband and I have been married for six months and I am 5½ months pregnant. We are thrilled but

Worried Bride

Dear Ann: My husband and I have been married for six months and I am 5½ months pregnant. We are thrilled but

My husband and I were married secretly because we planned to stay in college and get our degrees. When I discovered I was pregnant I told my folks we had been married secretly. They insisted on a church wedding immediately.

Now I'm beginning to look pregnant and the baby will arrive less than six months after our church wedding. When I tell people we were married secretly they give me that "Oh, yes" look and I don't know what to say.

How can I persuade them I'm telling the truth?—PHI BETA DUMMY.

Dear Dummy: Why bother? People who want to think the worst will think the worst. Your real friends couldn't care less.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Happy Dieter Now Wearing Size 14

Enthusiasm is wonderfully contagious. To hear from a reducer who set her sights on her perfect dress size and triumphed will do more to help you carry on than any amount of solid information I can pack into a column.

Last August I stepped on the scales. Ida Jean Kain found, to my horror, that I weighed 160½ pounds. I knew I was gaining and that I could no longer squeeze into anything but the large sizes in my closet. But to see the pointer just a half pound away from 170! That did it! The very next day I started the calorie count-down. The best part of keeping score on calories is that I have satisfying meals. On my vanity table I recorded the starting weight and the date.

"IN THE BEGINNING it was not easy, but once the initial plunge is made, reducing becomes a stimulating challenge. The first week I lost five pounds. Since then I have lost one pound a week, which suits me just fine. I walk daily and take just 10 minutes of slimming isometrics. . . holding the muscle contraction. It's grand!

"The morning that I tipped the scales at 150 pounds, a loss of almost 20 pounds, I went out and bought a size 14. I hung it where I could gaze at it daily. As I write this letter, I am wearing that dress! I now weigh 134 pounds. I get nothing but compliments. This is music to my ears!

"You just have to make up your mind whether you would rather keep increasing your dress size or how the thrill of being able to slip into your right size."

Let us analyze why this dieter succeeded so beautifully. In the first place, she made a commitment to herself. She planned good meals and kept the calorie score. She did not try to lose too fast.

MOST important, she practiced seeing herself slim. This plan made her goal real. When she reached 150 pounds, she actually bought a dress a size 14. . . and pictured herself wearing it. Having that dress right before her eyes helped her to picture herself wearing it.

Reducers, the more vividly you can imagine yourself wearing your right dress size, the more real it becomes to you. It's almost as if you had turned the project over to a higher authority.

The value of having a vivid goal cannot be over-emphasized. The picture of yourself which you hold in your mind's eye is most important, for that image tends to be developed.

Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Isometric Exercises. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Pittsburgh Talks Eye Guideline On Pollution Parley

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio and Pennsylvania officials will meet in Pittsburgh with federal representatives Feb. 8 to lay guidelines for a pollution conference in Youngstown Feb. 16. State Health Director Emmett W. Arnold has announced. Arnold, asserting he is puzzled by the federal government's call for a conference on pollution controls on the Mahoning River, said he hoped the "pre-conference" meeting will result in agreement on procedures and an agenda.

Ohio has objected to the Youngstown conference, called by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, on the grounds this state has been doing "extremely well" with its Mahoning River pollution control program.

Out Of The Air

'Kildare' Makes Them Die Happy

Long ago the founders of Hollywood entertainment, be it movies or TV, decided quite rightly that happy endings were to be standard and compulsory. No one, however, ever dreamed how far succeeding generations of scenarists would go to carry on the tradition.

The adherents of positive thinking at their most positive could not top the work being done in this field currently. A definite milestone to the happy ending certainly was established on a recent "Dr. Kildare" episode. If you weren't at home that night, surely you will want to be brought up to date.

THE GUEST STARS were Robert Young as chief obstetrician at Blair Hospital and Margaret Leighton as his wife of 19 years. They were making plans for her grown daughter's marriage when, lo and behold, Mrs. Winfield (Miss Liegton) is told by another obstetrician at Blair that she is to have a child, her first by Dr. Winfield (Mr. Young).

As is usually the case in any of these hospital series, the warm glow of this situation is short-lived. Another check of Mrs. Winfield revealed a kidney complication which made having a baby a touch-and-go proposition.

Almost simultaneously the good doctor himself, after an annual checkup, is informed by his friend and colleague, Dr. Gillespie, that a blood disease (terminal type) gives him six months to a year to live.

SURELY Jameson Brewer, writer of this script, must have realized when painting his way into this corner that he had to find a happy way out for the doomed pair. If not, then the Writers Guild should pick up his card, and maybe it should anyway.

After Dr. Winfield and his wife agonized to a point where she insists on having the baby against his wish, and he discovers she knows his plight both stiffen the upper lip and plan a sea voyage vacation.

The final scene, if I recall it correctly in my choked-up condition, was a bon voyage party. The about-to-be-married daughter and her future bridegroom were toasting the Winfields, whose chins were then up tight against their stiff upper lips.

NATURALLY, the daughter hadn't the slightest inkling of the impending tragedy (a potential doubleheader, in fact), and as the scene faded she was saying to her mother, "You'll let us know, won't you?" which referred, of course, to the upcoming blessed event.

To make sure nobody watching was depressed, young Dr. Kildare, I believe it was, made a joking remark to Dr. Gillespie—something about why didn't he take a trip and give the hospital staff a vacation. At least we were spared seeing the Winfields hand in hand at the bow of the ship as it sailed off into the sunset.

Some of you may quibble now and ask if I'm the kind of sadist who wanted to actually see the Winfields on their untimely deathbeds.

OF COURSE I didn't. As things developed, I found I didn't want to see the Winfields at all and can't imagine anyone else wanting to, either.

The "Kildare" series has had some interesting and worthwhile dramas, but this was not one of them. It was only an exercise in maudlinism and proved nothing except how far Hollywood will go to make an ending happy.

GASOLINE ALLEY

OFF THE RECORD

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I improvise some coconut when I have run out of the real thing?

A.—Grated raw potato makes a good substitute coconut.

Q.—How can I insure more tightly-driven nails?

A.—A nail dipped into colorless fingernail polish before being driven, will stay put much longer. This also works with screws.

Q.—How can I remove the indelible ink stains of a ball-point pen from fabrics?

A.—By sponging the spots with cotton soaked in rubbing alcohol.

Q.—How can I prevent my freshly-laundered sheets from wrinkling while drying?

A.—If you'll hang them on the line dripping wet, the weight of the water will pull them down and practically do your ironing and straightening for you.

Q.—What can I do about match-striking marks on a painted wood surface?

A.—Rub these marks with a cut lemon, and this should eliminate them.

Q.—How can I renovate black kid gloves?

A.—Touch the worn spots with a camel's hair brush dipped into a mixture of olive oil and black ink.

Parents Get Surprise,

10th Child's A Girl

PERRY, Ohio (U)—Mr. and Mrs. George Kico had had nine straight boys, so when it came time to pick a name for their tenth child, they anticipated another boy.

Stephen was the name they chose.

But the baby changed that. She's named Stephanie.

Junior Editors Quiz on CHOCOLATE

QUESTION: How can chocolate come from a tree?

ANSWER: In certain warm countries such as Brazil, Ghana and Nigeria, which lie not far from the equator, the cocoa tree is raised in large numbers. About 25 feet tall, this tree bears small flowers which turn into fruits or pods, each of which contains from 20 to 40 seeds. From these seeds, which are fermented, dried, roasted and ground, all chocolate products are made. The first products of the grinding is called "chocolate liquor." This has a very rich flavor but it is unsweetened and bitter. When cooled into solid form, the liquor becomes unsweetened baking chocolate, which is widely used in flavoring cakes, puddings and desserts. Manufacturers press the fat of coco butter from the liquor and turn what remains into a fine powder; this is the cocoa which gives us such a fine drink. When extra coco butter and sugar is added to the liquor, we get the sweet and semi-sweet chocolate which is used as a coating for chocolate candies. When milk solids is added to the last we get one of the foods Americans are very fond of: milk chocolate.

FOR YOU TO DO: Ask your mother to give you a bite of unsweetened baking chocolate. You probably won't like it as well as sweetened chocolate, but it has a kind of heavy dark taste that is interesting and make you think of the tropical countries from which chocolate comes.
